Messages from the Senate

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 41.

A concurrent resolution of tribute offered as a memorial for George H.W. Bush, Forty-first President of the United States.

Whereas, It was with great sadness that the members of the Michigan Legislature learned of the passing of President George H.W. Bush. A war hero, patriot, and statesman, his commitment to service and American values left a lasting impact on the citizens of this state, the people of the entire nation, and the international community; and

Whereas, President Bush’s remarkable life of service began at a young age, enlisting in the Navy on his eighteenth birthday just months after the bombing of Pearl Harbor. He came to be one of the Navy’s youngest aviators, flying missions in the Pacific Theater, including one in which he was shot down in 1944. He returned stateside at the end of the war, enrolling at Yale and marrying Barbara Pierce, his wife of 73 years. After graduation, he moved to Texas and became an extremely successful businessman; and

Whereas, The call to serve his fellow citizen was too great for George H.W. Bush to remain in the private sector. After losing a race for the United States Senate in 1964, he was elected to the first of two terms in the United States House of Representatives in 1966. After another failed Senate bid in 1970, President Richard Nixon tapped him to serve as the United States Ambassador to the United Nations and then chair of the Republican National Committee. President Gerald Ford then named him Chief of the Liaison Office in China, and later Director of the Central Intelligence Agency. After losing the 1980 Republican presidential primary, George H.W. Bush accepted his party’s nomination for Vice President, a position he held during both terms of the Reagan Administration; and

Whereas, George H.W. Bush won a decisive victory in the 1988 presidential election, including earning the support of nearly 54 percent of Michigan voters that year. As the 41st President of the United States, he will be most remembered for his exemplary stewardship of American interests on the world stage. He led the Free World during the reunification of Germany and the breakup of the Soviet Union, and deftly shepherded an international coalition that repelled Saddam Hussein following the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait. At home, President Bush championed fiscal responsibility, worked hard to pass protections for Americans with disabilities, and celebrated volunteerism. In the years following his presidency, he worked on numerous humanitarian causes, often side by side with former political rivals; and

Whereas, A true exemplar of the Greatest Generation, President Bush served his country and his fellow citizens at every opportunity. His integrity, decency, civility, and seriousness have been a model for the generations of Americans who followed him into public life; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That we offer this expression of our highest tribute to honor the memory of George H.W. Bush, the Forty-first President of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Bush family as evidence of our lasting esteem for his memory.

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Lauwers moved that the following remarks be printed in the Journal.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Lucido:

“In November of 2014 I was elected to the Michigan State House to represent the state’s 36th District, Macomb County. Being home grown in Macomb, I was deeply honored, humbled, and excited to be elected to serve and to come to Lansing’s state house with such pride and determination to do the job to the very best of my ability.

Upon arrival, I was unfamiliar with the job I was elected to and how to perform its tasks. Never before in politics - I was an outsider, who came to Lansing not knowing what was in store.

However, with the help and patience of this institution’s well-oiled machine of staff and assistants who have dedicated their lives to serve us, the elected, I came to know the job and how I could utilize their expertise and knowledge to benefit my constituents back home.

Truly, it is the committed personnel of this great institution who have provided me the proper tools and roadmap to navigate the reams of massive information, where to find it, and the answers I was looking for to help me define my legislation and policy that I was offering to make this state the greatest it could be.

Like most of you, having never served in the role of representative, I depended extensively on the trusted staff of the House and Senate to assist me in achieving my legislative goals.

Ok... before I begin identifying specific groups and individuals I need to thank, I want to take a minute to thank each and every one of you, because I wouldn’t have been able to complete all that I have, over the last four years, without your support.

Now, I wish to thank the voters who trusted me and believed in me when offering me their vote for the two terms in the House and now allowing me to continue to serve them in the State Senate starting January 2019.

Next, I want to thank my campaign team, volunteers, and supporters who stood by me throughout my journey at events, parades, coffee hours, town halls, and salutes to seniors and veterans.

To both Speakers Cotter and Leonard, I wish to thank them for appointing me to the Michigan Law Revision Commission as this has been my passion. To incoming speaker Chatfield, I bid you God’s blessing and guidance in your continued journey.

Furthermore, I thank their leadership team and policy staff, together with the non-partisan staff at LSB, who had the patience to listen to me and realize I was more than a rebel from Macomb.

To the Business Office, Clerk’s Office and everyone in between, thank you for allowing me to do my job without adding an additional layers of headache and stress, Tim Bolin, Doug Simon, Debbie Wroubel, Mark Meyers, Stacey Murray, Toni Linzey, Chris Beltzer, Matt Thompson and all the rest of the team in the House Business Office.

To the entire communications team, thank you for making me look and sound better and smarter than I am: Rob Minard, Christie Jones, John Perry, John Whetstone, Mike Quillinan, Mark Medenblik, Bill Mitch, Jeff Behrendt.

And special thanks to all of the communications advisors and member services advisors who have done so much to assist me in communicating with my constituents, especially:

Tim Martin
Zac Britton
Christina Guenther
Jared Rozycki
Denny Schwarze
Caleb Jenkins
Amanda Matelonek

...and all the other communications professionals that have supported me over the past 4 years.

To Clerks Randall and Brown, and all of their clerks, thank you for knowing the rules and procedures. Furthermore, I appreciate your institutional knowledge and professionalism both of which are so deeply needed as members come and go through elections and term-limits.

To Alice, thank you for keeping us fueled with coffee and tea and always being there with a warm and friendly smile. You are truly an angel.

To the messengers thank you for all you do, and the way you hustle.

To Chief Dickson and his entire team of highly professional sergeants, thank you for always having my back & the backs of my colleagues.

To the lobby core, like most, I misunderstood your role and responsibilities in the beginning. Today, I thank you for your insights and the depth of knowledge you have shared with me to help shape awesome policy for Michigan.

Colleagues, it has been a tremendous privilege to serve with you and to get to know you and your families. I have learned so much from hearing your thoughts and opinions on what is needed to make this state the greatest.

Up North Caucus

From over the bridge, to back home, here in Macomb I will always remember what lessons were told to me about northern Michigan.

West Side Colleagues

Now I understand what it means to go Dutch.

Oakland County Colleagues

You better first check in with Brooks and Bouchard and see what they want you to do.

Southern Border Colleagues

Sometimes I think you went over the Michigan border too far into Ohio.

Detroit Caucus Colleagues

You sure know Big D pride and how to live to fight another day. Our great city of Detroit will remain strong because of your efforts and vision.

To my Italian caucus members, ‘Salute!’

To the entire Macomb delegation, remember ‘there’s no place better to make your home, than in Macomb.’

To my staff

Scott Ray, and our wonderful interns, thank you for all of the hard work... but don’t relax - your job isn’t finished yet, because we are all headed to the Senate.

To my Family and Friends

Thank you for supporting me, putting up with the demands and sacrifices of campaigns, my time spent in Lansing and throughout the district, and for doing all that you do to allow me to serve.

Finally, and most importantly, I want to thank God, as none of this would be possible without His blessings and guidance. May He continue to bless all of us, together with our families, as we continue our journeys, wherever they may take us...

...and may He continue to bless the people of this great state of Michigan.

Always remember, colleagues, ‘people before politics, and patriotism before partisanship.’

Merry Christmas, and a healthy, happy, prosperous new year!™

Rep. Maturen:

“I grew up in the little town of Essexville on the Saginaw River by Saginaw Bay. In the early 1950’s my Father Clarence was elected mayor. He also served for many years as the City Assessor and other posts in the City government. In those days before the 1963 Constitutional Convention, we did not have a County Board of Commissioners but a County Board of Supervisors composed of ex officio municipal officials. He served in both capacities for roughly 20 years.

So every night at the dinner table – anyone remember families all eating together at 5:30 with no cell phone or internet interruptions – I listened to municipal and county issues - with politics thrown in occasionally for good measure. Those dinner table discussions have framed my view of government that in many, many cases regulation is best left to the local level.

So I have tended to take up the cause for local governments in my four years in the Capitol. I was honored to receive the Michigan Municipal League Legislator of the Year Award, the Michigan Association of Counties Advocate of the Year Award and the Michigan Townships Association Legislator of the Year Award.

Perhaps I am a romantic, but the activities we engage in on a daily basis are not as portrayed by Normal Rockwell in his Four Freedoms painting. I actually got to see first-hand in real time something I only read about in my Econ books at WMU.

I am talking about Rent Seeking. Not the landlord type or the Broadway show – but we are constantly besieged by folks who want to use government as a tool to gain an advantage or fatten their wallets. This town has perfected this into a fine art.

I had never been a member of a gang before – but found myself a member of two of them just this session: The Gang of Twelve and - not to be outdone – the Gang of Sixteen. But unlike the usual gang, there are no secret handshakes, tattoos or initiation ceremony. Just the ability to objectively analyze legislation and come to a reasoned opinion as to whether it is the best interest of the people of this state.

I did not run for this office to play follow the leader. I approached legislation with the same kind of diligence and analysis I have used for the past five decades in the valuation profession. I feel that I did my homework for the 90,000 people in the 63rd. That homework gets past the sound bites and talking points.

Thank you to Sergeants, HFA with supplying me with timely and accurate numbers, LSB, Communications Staff (who make me look good) and of course my office staff Sherry and Jodi (who have done a great job with constituent relations). Thank you to those folks in the 63rd District in Kalamazoo and Calhoun Counties who put their faith in me for the last four years. And of course a thank you to Nancy my wife of 47 years who has put up with my 30 years of elected public office at the township, county and state levels to attend meetings, conferences, parades and campaign activities.

I have had the opportunity to visit the National Gallery in Oslo, Norway to see the original painting The Scream by Edvard Munch. A copy of it hangs by my desk and I am able to commiserate with it when I come back from a long day on the floor to my office in the HOB across the street.

I have been privileged to know many fine legislators on both sides of the aisle who genuinely have the interest of this state at heart. I will always cherish our friendship.

I wish the members of the 100th Legislature only the best in continuing to address the issues that are important to our 10,000,000 residents. The dynamics have changed and I hope that there is a renewed spirit of cooperation among the members of this body.

So instead of fighting with trucks and traffic and snow and ice on I-94 on my way to the Capitol, next month (and for several months) I will plant my umbrella, put my feet in the Florida Gulf sand and crack a good book - perhaps by such noted contemporary authors as Jeff Flake or Max Boot.

Summer months will find me with my daughters and five grandchildren at Indian Lake swimming out to the raft or water skiing.

Many times I have had the privilege of presenting tributes to new Eagle Scouts and I like to tell them of a lesson I learned as a boy scout over 50 years ago. When my troop went camping our Scoutmaster would say ‘now gather round boys. Look at this camp site. I want you to leave it in better condition than when you found it.’ I hope I have played a little part in leaving the State of Michigan in better condition than when I came here.

Thank you.”

Rep. McCready:

“Fellow members of the 99th Michigan House of Representatives:

It has been a true honor to serve alongside you and to serve the people of my district. As the final days conclude on the 99th Legislature I share these thoughts with you.

I would first like to thank my family and friends for their support as I worked to serve in the Legislature. I would also like to thank my staff, Jason and Rob for their counsel, dedication and passion working in my office. In addition, I want to thank the people of the 40th district for giving me this opportunity to serve our community.

I also want to take a moment to thank and recognize the unsung heroes of the Legislature, the men and women that help our system of government to operate day in and day out. I want to thank the Speaker’s office and his staff for their assistance in preparing us for session. I want to thank the Republican Communication and Policy staff for their counsel, and assistance. I want to thank Doug Simon and the rest of the business office staff who are always there to lend a helping hand or to answer a question on House policy. I want to thank LSB for their expert legal counsel and work in drafting legislation. I want to thank Clerk Randall and Assistant Clerk Brown and all of their staff for maintaining the flow of session. I also want to thank Chief Dickson and the other sergeants, our ever vigilant protectors ensuring our safety and that of our many visitors.

During the last six years, I have had the privilege to serve and work on many policies which have impacted our state for the better. It is difficult to choose among so many that I am most proud of.

In my first term I was given the opportunity and privilege to be one of five House members to serve on the historic Committee on Detroit Recovery & Michigan Future. In that committee we listened to the testimony of many Detroit residents, retirees and current elected officials. Detroit was struggling with economic growth and experiencing unprecedented decline in population. My colleagues and I on both sides of the aisle came together to forge the Grand Bargain, to restructure the city and usher it out of bankruptcy. Now years later we see a new and reborn Detroit, alive with economic development and growth.

That same session term also saw the unexpected approval of a controversial policy, the establishment of Healthy Michigan. A program which has provided short term health insurance to over 600,000 low income Michiganders and meaningful savings to the state budget. Healthy Michigan brings healthcare to residents who would have otherwise sought high cost emergency room care. This program has allowed many Michiganders to focus on improving their lives, giving them the opportunity to raise themselves up.

When I first came to Lansing in January of 2013, our roads and infrastructure were crumbling before our eyes. I am proud to have played a part in the work to increase road funding. We have made big steps forward to being on the right track but there is still more to do.

I want to wish the members of the 100th Legislature the best when they convene next month to continue the work entrusted to them by the people of Michigan.

So with that I will leave you with these as my final words. It is with grace I thank all those whose efforts aided me in this endeavor. It is with sadness that I say farewell and it is with optimism I look forward.

Thank You-State Representative Mike McCready.”

Rep. Moss:

“I am going to take my time, but not as long as some others, to say goodbye to the Michigan House of Representatives after a long history here.

I first started working here in the Michigan House in August 2005, when I began an internship for Paul Condino, the State Representative from Southfield. My direct supervisor was Paul’s Legislative Director Erin Schor, the current first lady of the city of Lansing.

When Erin and Andy welcomed their second child in 2006, I was hired on to fill in her role during maternity leave. So I was 19 years old, an acting-Legislative Director making a whopping $10 an hour.

I returned to the Michigan House in 2011 as the District Director for State Representative Rudy Hobbs of Southfield, and I’ve been honored to have him as a mentor along with then-Southfield Mayor, now-Congresswoman Brenda Lawrence. With their help I was elected to the Southfield City Council later that year.

I was 25, not only the youngest-ever member of the City Council, but the youngest by 30 years. I served with 60-year-olds, 70-year-olds, 80-year-olds, and the oldest local elected official in the state of Michigan, who was 93 at the time.

When I was elected, one of my colleagues said, ‘Welcome to the Southfield City Council, where it’s like being on a deserted island with six other people and everybody hates everybody else.’

Another colleague told me as I had won on Election Night, ‘Don’t you forget you’re just 25 years old.’

A third colleague called me a novice, a neophyte and wet behind the ears.

And my favorite was when the 93-year-old announced at a council meeting, ‘Jeremy Moss, you don’t know anything about anything.’

I had a great time on the City Council.

But really I did. It was a fun challenge to strategize and push and organize to move my agenda forward. Every day was a fight. I was very scrappy.

I paint this picture because that’s how I came to the Michigan House of Representatives in 2014. In a 47-63 minority, I was ready to fight – every day if needed.

One of the first votes that came before the House – this is January or February 2015 – was to change the 2016 Michigan Republican presidential caucus (paid for by the party) to a Republican presidential primary (paid for by taxpayers). And several of us in the Democratic caucus thought, what a great issue to push back on.

I came back from the caucus room to my seat on the floor, ready to write and deliver a rousing floor speech, thinking all Dems were prepared to vote no. Then my seatmate turned to ask me, ‘Why do you care? Not everything has to be a fight. Let them have their primary.’

Not everything has to be a fight. That went against everything I had to experience on the City Council. But it was one of the many lessons that I learned from John Kivela that has made me a better legislator.

I ended up voting for that bill.

John and I were from very different parts of the state. His district spanned across a third of the UP. The 90,000 residents I represent live in a six mile by six mile square. He found it unbelievable that you could park in the middle of my district and be no more than three miles from the next district.

When he walked doors at the far end of his district, he told me he would have to stay at a motel because it was too far from home.

I think that really illustrates the differences between each of our backgrounds here. We all have unique experiences from home that form our values and the decisions that we make to best advocate for the residents we represent. It doesn't always mean that my analysis is right and yours is wrong, or that yours is right and mine is wrong.

John taught me to remember that often.

And it's a lesson that has been repeated as I've worked with the Speaker-elect, Lee Chatfield, although I do think he's wrong quite often.

When we first arrived here, I think there were a lot of people from my community and a lot of people from your community who didn't want us to work together, let alone become good friends.

Instead we've chosen to find common ground and push our transparency legislation and work on several other bill packages.

None of this is to say I have ever compromised my values or backed down from a really good fight. I've been gavelled down on the floor and in committee, thank you Chairman Chatfield.

But I've also earned the trust to chair a committee. As a Democrat, I chaired a House legislative committee meeting.

I liken the way we work together, Mr. Speaker, to Wile E. Coyote and the sheepdog who clock in, go to battle all day, and clock out as friends. The legislature would benefit more if our conflicts were only based on policy and not personality.

Too often that's not the case. I think there are still biases in society and in government we'll need to overcome to enhance policy debates. I've seen these hurdles in action in the 98th Legislature and the 99th Legislature, and I hope we can begin the work in the 100th Legislature to the end institutional bias that stalls good policy.

Ending institutional bias: I represent District 35 and Sheldon Neeley represents District 34. I'm glad he's been my next-door neighbor for four years.

When we first got here in January 2015, he told me that the people in his community couldn't drink the water. It was brown and had sediment in it. So he wrote a letter to the Attorney General. He got no immediate response. You know the rest.

I often think about what would happen if people in my community couldn't drink their water. I represent Southfield, a majority African American city. I also represent communities with some of the wealthiest white Michiganders.

How would officials respond if there was a water crisis in Southfield? How would officials respond if there was a water crisis in Franklin or Bingham Farms?

How would officials respond to a letter I wrote versus a letter Sheldon wrote?

I don't like how I think these questions are answered. We have to change that.

Thank you, Sheldon, for your advocacy for clean water.

Ending institutional bias: Every child in the state of Michigan should receive a quality education regardless of their zip code. That's how we can create a level playing field so each student has a chance to compete in our economy.

I still watch Sherry Gay-Dagnogo's speech on the floor about discriminatory policies that led to the failures in Detroit Public Schools. I still get chills from it.

When we push for a solution to resolve those issues, we have to listen to the input from those who these challenges directly impact.

Thank you, Sherry, for your advocacy for good schools.

Ending institutional bias: No one should be fired or denied housing for who they are or who they love and we must amend the Elliot Larsen Civil rights act to include protections for LGBT Michiganders.

And we as a community face other petty challenges on a daily basis.

For four years, Jon Hoadley and I have introduced a resolution to simply declare June as LGBT Pride Month and every year it dies in committee.

Yet we've passed resolutions for Apple Month, Craft Beer Month, Ice Cream Month, and Pollinator Week with no hesitation. A Legislature that wants you to know about the contributions of honey bees can surely acknowledge the contributions of gay and trans people, too.

We have lot we can learn from one another about how policy proposals impact those who are different from us. And I will treasure all of the friendships I've made here from people all across the state of Michigan.

To Jason Sheppard, Dave Maturen, Kim LaSata, Jim Lilly, and Chris Afendoulis – Thank you for being pragmatic. I've always felt like you listened to my left-leaning point of view with genuine interest.

To Daniela Garcia – I don't think you've been interested in my left-leaning point of view, but you've been a good friend.

To the Republican Chairmen I've worked with –

Joe Graves – Commerce committee my first term. I liken you to Dave Rutledge as being a good and decent public servant.

Aaron Miller – Elections committee this term. Thank you for taking up my bill.

Brandt Iden – My chair of Reg Reform as Vice Chair. We've done a lot of great work together. If any of you are seeking to work on really nonpartisan policy, join the Reg Reform committee.

To Speaker Leonard – Every time I campaigned this fall with and for your opponent, which was often, I always said even while stumping for her that I genuinely like Tom Leonard. Now that probably caused her to go even harder after you at our campaign stops because I wouldn't.

You're good man and you kept your promise about not having too many late night sessions.

To Leader Singh – There have been countless times when you have said or done things and I've thought, I will never be this smart on policy or politics. Thank you for your steady leadership and your friendship.

To Vanessa Guerra – Vanessa and I were the youngest Democrats during my first term, the only ones in our 20s. Many times, Vanessa and I felt like we were the only ones here who could relate to each other.

Now it seems like half the caucus is younger than me. So Vanessa, I pass onto the mantle and responsibility of being the oldest of the youngest. That means you have to look after Darrin and Abdullah when I'm gone.

To Stephanie, Winnie, Erika and Sylvia and other incoming Senate Democrats – I'm looking forward to the march to majority with you in four years.

To our House Democratic staff – Thank you for your dedication. I know what it's like to be overworked and underpaid here but you are a critical piece to our fight.

To my team – Jennie Gies, thank you for helping to set up our office. To Kelsey Heck and Mari Manning, thank you for your dedicated constituent service. To Jason Hoskins, I couldn't do this without you. To Sarah Schillio, good luck.

To former senior staff members Patti Tremblay and Kris Young – You've been invaluable to me.

To the policy staff, especially with whom I've worked as vice chair, Rachel Richards and Mitch Albers, who have since left, and Eli Gaugush and Jasmine Brown Moreland – I've either been your favorite representative or least favorite representative. Thank you for not letting me know which.

To Katie Carey and Samantha Hart – I'm sorry I've so tortured the comms team. It's tough to write for someone with a Journalism degree. I'm sorry for how many times I've mentioned to your team that I have a Journalism degree.

To the press corp – Thank you for what you do. I have a Journalism degree. You are essential to our democracy and I'm working to give you more tools to operate here.

To my fellow Oakland County Democrats -

Tim Greimel – I have a tremendous amount of respect for you. This House is at a loss due to term limits. The local Diet Coke market is at a loss due to term limits.

Jim Ellison – I'm counting on you to be the voice for local governments here. Call out the party of local control when they erode local control. I'm looking forward to representing Madison Heights with you.

Incoming Leader Christine Greig – You're going to do great things with this caucus. I always got your back. Call me when you need to manage Speaker Chatfield. I'll see you in Farmington and Farmington Hills.

Robert Wittenberg – You're my closest friend inside this chamber. You're one of my closest friends outside of this chamber. I know I'm one of your best friends because everyone is one of your best friends.

I have valued your friendship for five and a half years and look forward to our continued partnership in southeastern Oakland County.

To my parents, family and friends – Thank you for supporting me through this long journey of public service. It's been a collective, group effort. I couldn't do this without your love and sacrifice.

And lastly, to the residents of the 35th House District – Thank you for continuing to place your trust in me to be your elected representative in government.

To Beverly Hills, Bingham Farms and Franklin, I leave you in the capable hands of State Representative-Elect Kyra Harris Bolden and State Senator-Elect Rosemary Bayer. It's been a true honor serve as your voice in the Legislature.

To Southfield and Lathrup Village, let's go. We're taking this fight to the State Senate."

By unanimous consent the House returned to the order of

In The Chair: Tedder

The House agreed to the title of the bill.

Rep. Geiss, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:
 “Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

Today I voted against HB 6553 because it in its mission to provide the Legislature ‘an absolute right to intervene in any lawsuit in any court in this state whenever it deems such intervention is necessary to protect any right or interest of this state or the Legislature’ violates the separation of powers of the branches of government as defined by the constitutions of both the State of Michigan and the United States.

This legislation infringes upon the checks and balances designed to ensure that the weight of power does not sit with only one branch of government. It violates our oaths of office to uphold, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitutions of our state and nation.

The weight of the Separation of Powers was so critical to the authors of the U.S. Constitution, that it is defined in Article I sections 1 through 3, wherein not only are the separation of powers defined, the roles of each branch of government (executive, legislative, and judicial) is defined in its own individual section. In the Michigan Constitution of 1963, the separation of powers is defined in Article III, sec. 2 and states: ‘The powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution’ (Const. 1963, Art. III, § 2, Eff. Jan. 1, 1964.)”

Rep. Chirkun, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

This bill is a clear violation of the separation of two branches of government and is a clear violation of the Michigan Constitution.”
