CONTENT

House Bill 5257 (S-1) would amend the Michigan Penal Code to prohibit and prescribe a felony penalty of up to three years' imprisonment for knowingly possessing ransomware with the intent to introduce it into a computer or computer network without authorization.

"Ransomware" would mean a computer or data contaminant, encryption, or lock that is placed or introduced without authorization into a computer, computer system, or computer network and that restricts access by an authorized person to a computer, computer data, computer system, or computer network in a manner that results in the person responsible for the placement or introduction of the ransomware demanding payment of money or other consideration to remove the computer contaminant, or restore access to the computer, computer system, computer network, or data. The term would not include authentication required to upgrade or access purchased content.

House Bill 5258 (H-1) would amend the sentencing guidelines in the Code of Criminal Procedure to include the felony proposed by House Bill 5257 (S-1) as a Class F offense against public order, with a statutory maximum of three years.

Proposed MCL 750.409b (H.B. 5257)

FISCAL IMPACT

House Bill 5257 (S-1) could have a negative fiscal impact on the State and local government. More felony arrests and convictions could increase demands on court systems, community supervision, jails, and correctional facilities. The average cost to State government for felony probation supervision is approximately $3,024 per probationer per year. For any increase in prison intakes, in the short term, the marginal cost to State government is approximately $3,764 per prisoner per year. Any associated increase in fine revenue increases funding to public libraries.

House Bill 5258 (H-1) would have no fiscal impact on local government and an indeterminate fiscal impact on the State, in light of the Michigan Supreme Court's July 2015 opinion in People v. Lockridge, in which the Court ruled that the sentencing guidelines are advisory for all cases. This means that the addition to the guidelines under the bill would not be compulsory for the sentencing judge. As penalties for felony convictions vary, the fiscal impact of any given felony conviction depends on judicial decisions.
