Rep. Aaron Miller, from the 59th District, offered the following invocation:

“Our Heavenly Father,

Thank You for this day that You have made. We give You all the glory and honor that You are due for it and for all things.

Lord, this morning I was reminded of Your son’s warning to us: ‘In this world you will have trouble.’ However, I can take comfort and joy from his subsequent promise given to the disciples that also applies to us: ‘But take heart! I have overcome the world.’ Father, thank You for that promise. We recognize that You are bigger than and over and above all of the things we can see with our little eyes and hear with our little ears and think of with our little minds. Given my own great personal shortcomings, Lord, I’m so grateful for that promise. I think of my own three little girls right now when I beg of You with a contrite heart and a broken spirit: Father, change me like unto a little child so that I might one day enter Your kingdom.

God, for us all, let us finish this race in this chamber that has been laid out for us and, infinitely more importantly, equip us to finish the ultimate race laid out for us as Your ambassadors so that we might one day hear the words, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things.’

It is in the name of Jesus Christ that I pray, amen and amen.”

Motions and Resolutions

Rep. Cole moved that Rule 71 be suspended.

The motion prevailed, 3/5 of the members present voting therefor.

By unanimous consent the House considered House Resolution No. 341 out of numerical order.

Reps. Hernandez, Allor, Crawford, Garza, Haadsma and Kuppa offered the following resolution: House Resolution No. 341.

A resolution to declare December 2, 2020, as Vein of Galen Malformation Awareness Day in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, On December 2, 2010, Caiden Hernandez was born with a Vein of Galen Malformation, a rare medical condition which often proves fatal if left untreated; and

Whereas, This legislative body has a unique opportunity to educate the public about this condition; and

Whereas, It is believed that less than 500 cases of Vein of Galen Malformation are diagnosed in the United States each year, and

Whereas, Without recognition from this legislative body, it is unlikely that most parents will ever become aware of this condition until it is too late; and

Whereas, Early detection is the key to survivability when treating this disorder; and

Whereas, A prenatal ultrasound late in pregnancy is currently the best way to detect a Vein of Galen Malformation early enough for successful treatment; and

Whereas, Children who receive early treatment for this condition can and do often make a full recovery and go on to lead a long, healthy life; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare December 2, 2020, as Vein of Galen Malformation Awareness Day in the state of Michigan; and be it further

Resolved, That we urge all Michiganders to use this day as an opportunity to educate themselves about Vein of Galen Malformations, and to learn about the importance of early detection in treating this often fatal condition.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Associate Speaker Pro Tempore Lilly called Associate Speaker Pro Tempore Hornberger to the Chair.

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Cole moved that the following remarks be printed in the Journal.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Guerra:

“Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

As was mentioned yesterday, farewell speeches tend to fall into only a few categories, the grievance category, the thank you category or the complete recitation of one’s life story category. I had initially planned on going the grievance route as serving in the minority for three terms allows one the ability to acquire a long list of resentments and objections to what goes on here. But then I thought about this saying my mom sort of lives by and it goes something like this. Always stop and ask yourself, is what you’re about to say kind? Is it true? Is it necessary? And is it helpful? My grievances are probably 2 for 2 based on those metrics so I have opted for the thank you route instead.

And truly I really welcome the opportunity to publicly thank the people in this world who frankly I feel as though I probably can’t thank enough for all that they have done for me.

First I want to thank the people of the 95th District who chose to put their faith in me with their vote and even those who did not vote for me but have driven me to think critically about every vote that I take in this chamber. I have always felt so undeserving of the love and support I have received from what are often complete strangers, but I am no less thankful for it.

Second, I have to thank my staff, Mary Frank and Rob Mass. Mary has only been with me the last two years but I know she was the missing piece we needed in my first two terms so my only regret is that we did not meet sooner.

Rob was with me from the very beginning in my first term and along with Mary, both have always been more than just staff, you both have been career counselors, life coaches, armchair psychologists and most importantly, friends. I hope you both know I will always support you in whatever career paths you seek and will gladly be your walking billboard ready to tell future employers just how wonderful you both are.

Third I want to thank all the house Dems caucus staff for the incredible work and patience they must have. Many thanks to Coffiann Hawthorne, a Saginawian herself and my hometown cheerleader who gave me the confidence boost I needed from the first time I set foot on this floor.

Cynthia Paul, thank you for every call, text or email you provided at any time of day just to ensure I had a response to a question we both know I had already asked you ten times before.

Mitch Albers, thank you for your detailed memos and remarkable ability to know the answer to every last-minute question I posed, the knowledge and experience I will take into my next endeavor, I owe all to you.

Also, many thanks to Liz Kranz and Zach Crim our amazing caucus staff who always made me feel as though deadlines didn’t apply to me because I was always waiting till the last minute to ask you to write or create something for us.

I also must thank Reps. Camilleri, Pagan and Wittenberg for the personal friendships we’ve created. I came into the legislature with Reps. Pagan and Wittenberg and was immediately impressed with Rep Pagan’s obsession with campaigning but also her advocacy for reproductive rights, an issue I know we will both continue to fight for.

I was equally as impressed by Rep. Wittenberg’s prudent commitment to gun violence prevention and more personally, his innate ability to make me laugh at times when the overwhelming weight of the work we do here would get me down.

As for Rep. Camilleri despite us butting heads at the beginning with his only technically accurate proclamations of being the youngest Latino legislator, he has served as a welcomed confidant and I have always envied the thoughtful and innovative ways he communicates with his constituents.

Last but not least, thank you to my family, my friends and especially my husband who sadly no longer takes me for my word when I say I will be home by dinnertime, or when I say I’m taking the weekend off from work, and he really no longer believes me when I promise that our anniversary dates will not double as opportunities to attend community events. I don’t know that I would handle those scenarios as well as he has but that is why he is, without a doubt, my better half.

Thank you for your time today, and good luck.”

Rep. Hoadley:

“Howdy,

In December 2012, I was sitting around the kitchen table of my friend Mary Harper and we were talking about how HD 60 was likely going to be open in 2014. She said to me, ‘you’re going to run.’

I stammered some sort of reply and she cut me off.

‘That wasn’t a question.’

I was volun-told into service, and I’m so glad she did.

The last six years have been a true joy and frustration at times.

There are three phrases that have guided my service over the past six years, and I'm sure my staff are sick of hearing me say them:

1. If we all do a little, we'll get a lot done.
2. Government can do good things when we have good people in government.
3. Don't fall behind. It's hard to catch up.

Every day, there are people here who do a little to get a lot done.

I think about the Bi-Partisan Care Caucus working on long-term care with folks like Bronna Kahle, Padma Kuppa, Mary Whiteford, Darrin Camilleri, Laurie Pohutsky, and more while we were supported for the longest time with the incomparable Laura De Palma.

My seatmate for the past two terms (even if there's an aisle between us) Kristy Pagan. She was my ride or die on Appropriations knows how to whip a vote. Also, remember when we Lorax-ed that tree bill?

Folks in the Creative Caucus with Rep. Afendoulis, Leslie Love, Sen. Geiss, and other champions for art, culture, and the creative industries. Returning members: keep funding the arts! And actually, fund higher education more, too. Rep. Anthony, you've been a champion for students and their families. Keep changing lives.

The people that push us out of our comfort zones a little bit. We all come with different backgrounds. Folks like Rep. Julie Plawecki, my first seatmate. We talked to each other into going to the first House Breakfast Group. I've been to every one since, except, ironically, the one where she spoke. I think of her whenever I go.

I think about people like Sen. Moss. We started our legislative service together by ending a long dry spell of LGBTQ representation in the Legislature. Now, he broke another ceiling by serving in the State Senate. At the same time, we came in with a series of news articles contrasting us to more conservative members who were also characterized as anti-LGBTQ equality, including Courser, Gamrat, and Rep. Gary Glenn. One of my favorite memories was sitting at a BBQ on Hayford Street, having a beer with Gary, and realizing he and I had been working on the opposite side of local ballot measures in a ton of cities across the state and country—I'll note my side won in every one of them—but finding out we actually had plenty of things we could work on together. Gary, I hope you're doing well. Also Speaker Chatfield, it's not too late to pass a Pride Month resolution.

Sarah Roberts and Jeff Irwin who showed me that if you keep working around the edges you can make big change. Sam Singh and Winnie Brinks for helping me feel welcome and involved. Rashida Talib who always had another amendment ready to go. And, Stephanie Chang who moves critical legislation because she never stops working.

I think about the little things our Kalamazoo County delegation, past and present, do to get things done. Sen. O'Brien who was the closest thing to a legislative den mother I've ever seen. Tag-teaming with Sen. McCann at events. The dry and impeccable sense of humor of David Maturen to the more direct ribbing of Matt Hall, it's been a pleasure. I do, however, regret that Brandt Iden and I only did one beer tour.

There are good people who have spent their lives doing a little bit every day to help. Gov. Whitmer and Lt. Gov Gilchrist: your leadership for our state has kept us safer.

Robert Wittenberg, my work husband. LaTanya Garret, bestie. Sherry Gay-Dagnogo who's voice never failed to make me stop and listen. Vanessa Guerra who I couldn't say no to when she wanted me to fight for an appropriation for her. Abdullah Hammoud, always managed to find another dollar in the budget.

Speaking of budget, I'm lucky to have served the past six years on Appropriations with some of the best folks in this chamber. Pam Farris taught me everything I know. To the team this year, including even Phil Browne and Chairman Shane Hernandez, thank you for working on two crazy budgets in two crazy years. And to Andy Solon, Budget Director Kolb, Bethany Wicksall, Kyle Jenn, Kevin Koorstra, and Mary-Ann Cleary, thank you for being incredible to work with and getting our state through those two crazy budgets. I'll miss our never-ending meetings with Sen. Hertel and Kathleen.

And maybe a lesson that is especially important in the era of COVID-19: how to work across the aisle on public health. I think back to the work Rep. Canfield and I did with advocates across the state to modernize our laws related to HIV and public health. Michigan was a state where if someone knew your HIV status, they could weaponize it against you and blackmail you, lest they turn you in for 'failing to disclose' your HIV status under certain circumstances. As a result, individuals sometimes wouldn't even get tested for HIV, delaying treatment and care.

The science said there was a better way, but stigma—and a lack of education on how far treatment has come—stood in the way. Does that sound familiar? Together, we moved a bill through the process that, although far from perfect, made Michigan a little safer for everyone.

Of course, sometimes the things that get done aren't always for the good.

I remember sitting in this chamber six years ago as this body passed a bill that allowed for discrimination against LGBTQ folks and religious minorities in adoption and foster care. Those of you returning should fix that.

We cannot continue to fester a toxic environment that strips the joy from serving. I hope all of us think about what our personal role is in that because I know many of us want to change that dynamic.

Government can do good things when we have good people in government.

We know many of these folks: Alice, sergeant Dickson and the other sergeants, the committee staff, the folks in the House Business office that answered so many of my questions about healthcare.

The incredible staff: but especially Renee Walker who I thank for helping me sound smarter than I am and Nathan Triplett for keeping me out of jail.

Andy Solon: When we first met, I was convinced you were the absolute wrong pick for our Appropriations staffer, but I'm glad Kris Young knew better than I did. You're diligent, smart, strategic, and funny. I'm glad you're a friend.

To Edie Trent watching at home—You helped me learn the ropes of this job and cared so deeply about our constituents.

Melissa Fish: You are one of the brightest people I know. People underestimate you at their peril. You have the ability to bring order to chaos, you're funny, and you're kind. You're one of the people that make things so much better along the way.

And of course, Julie Vogel. The first call I got the day after winning the Democratic primary in 2014 was from Mary Brown who opened with, 'You're keeping Julie Vogel, right?' phrased not as a question but in the volun-told tone I've come to appreciate from other strong women. Julie, your friendship, expertise, calm demeanor, and sometimes quiet anger made this job just a little easier. And we had some fun along the way, too, right?

We're nearing the end of the speech and I feel like I'm not taking my Grandfather's advice that was repeated so often it practically became our family moto: Don't fall behind, it's hard to catch up.

Chris Greig, you've been a friend and a leader. I've learned so much working along side you, and I can't wait to see how you're going to keep changing the world in this next chapter of your life. I'll miss dropping into your office unannounced.

Kelly Doyle, you've been through thick and thin with me. I wouldn't want to go into battle with anyone else. Also, Benjamin could not ask for a better dog aunt.

Heather Ricketts. You're my friend since college and I've loved watching as our lives keep growing together. Also, it is what it is.

Kris Dieterman, you've put up with an awful lot over the past six years. Late nights, weekends packed with projects, way too many rubber chicken dinners. I love you and thank you.

So for everyone else who is thinking about how they can help make their communities a better place, don't fall behind. Get to work now. My friends on the internet will remember Jake Brewer who passed a few years ago. He worked in the Obama administration. When they were cleaning out his desk, he had a sticky note on his computer that said, 'cultivate the karass' and had a quote from President Barack Obama on his computer screen. A karass is a network or group of people who, unknown to themselves, are somehow affiliated or linked specifically to fulfill the will of God. And the quote read, 'Every day we use all the tools we have to fight cynicism, to unlock the possible, and make life better for the American people and people around the world.'

I'm paying the volun-told favor forward. Go find your people. Raise your voice with an idea to help make life better. Raise your hand for public service. Let's get to work."

Rep. Kennedy:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker.

I remember shadowing Pam Faris last year on a day when folks were giving their farewell speech. There was a young representative who was not coming back due to an election outcome. He spoke for about 45 minutes. I will not be doing that.

When my former colleagues from the education community ask me what I enjoy most about serving, I reflect on why I ran for this seat in the first place. To be a voice at the table for a fully and equitably funded public school system. And after explaining the difference between appropriations and policy, I would share that my favorite part about serving were the conversations had when we aren't in committee or voting on anything specifically. My favorite part of serving has been speaking with my current colleagues on both sides of the aisle about education policy, and hopefully making a difference in their understanding of our current system of Pre-K through college public education system.

We had many of these conversations in the bi-partisan educators caucus with the support and friendship of my colleague Brad Paquette. I also had many of these conversations with the current chairperson of K-12 Appropriations, Aaron Miller. I respect and appreciate them both. I look forward to seeing the continued work of educators' caucus and leave it in good hands with my friend and colleague, Lori Stone.

But to be frank, we simply need to move to a place in this government where we finally fill the funding gaps for our schools. Public education is a civil right that should be fully funded and supported at the actual cost of educating our children. I will continue advocating for this work until schools are provided at least $11,000 per pupil in a weighted model that moves more money where it is needed most. In addition, I will continue to work for a minimum of the 40% funding for special education from the federal government, as was promised when IDEA was originally passed in 1975. This is a matter of civil rights and social justice and will continue to be my life's work.

I am appreciative of my partner and chairperson, Rep. VanWoerkem of the MDARD Appropriations Committee, of which I was privileged to be the Vice Chair. It was an honor to advocate for important programs such as Double-Up Food Bucks to help bring healthier food to those who need it, and many agricultural science and economic development programs to help support the agricultural community of the 48th District and the State of Michigan. I think Rep. VanWoerkem and I had probably the LEAST contentious committee partnerships, and for that I am grateful.

I also served on Corrections Appropriations and learned so much through the process. My lens of the corrections system is forever changed because of this work. I am so thankful to our public servants who work to keep our prison system safe, clean, healthy and uplifting to those who seek a second chance.

I carry with me so much pride for having served in the House during THIS term. Forever I will know that I was a member of the 100th Term in this House. I was part of a pink wave—that moved our caucus to full gender parity with the addition of my friend and colleague Cynthia Neeley. I was also part of a blue wave that allowed me to serve with a Governor that I believe will go down in history as one of Michigan's most effective of all time—against many odds. I was also part of an educator's wave that brought in many teachers, like myself in both chambers of this beautiful building. I am so honored and consider myself blessed to have been elected for THIS TIME, and to have served during THIS TERM, with all of its unique budgetary challenges and attributes.

I have also learned so much about the brains behind the beauty, specifically I appreciate the brilliance and expertise of Andy Solan, Dan Feinberg, Bill Hamilton and Ashley Steffen, Cynthia Paul, Robin Risko, Jasmine Tompkins and Brandy Johnson. I invite them all to call me regularly, just so I can get my policy nerd fix. It has been a pleasure to work with you all. Alongside them I have learned the value of communications when advocating for those policies, and especially my good friends Rae DeBrander, David Breed and Jeremy Herliczek and the amazing work that they do to make all of us look entirely more attractive than any of us deserve.

Finally I would like to thank Chief Sergeant Dickson and all of the Sergeants who have worked to keep us safe. You all are my heroes. Also Sally for keeping the coffee on, even in the wee hours of the morning. I feel like all of you deserve a medal for your tireless and giving service.

Thank you to Rep Yaroch for allowing me to participate in a loving remembrance of a former student. It meant everything to me.

Thank you to my husband Mike, who is honestly relieved that I am out of this business for now, and adult children and spouses, David and Megan, Joe and Stefanie, and Karissa, who hopefully learned that thick skin is necessary in life, and when you have a moral compass, what other people say in an election really doesn't matter. It does not change God's plans or his LOVE for you.

I would be untruthful if I also didn't share that I have some regrets, most of which is that I won't be returning in January. I will miss my friends—too many to mention: but especially my freshman class, my Genesee County partners: Senator Ananich, Rep. Sneller, Rep. Cherry, Rep. Neeleys (both of them), and Rep. Mueller. We made a good team. I have so appreciated my mentors, Chris Greig and Donna Lasinski. I love and respect you both.

I will miss TEAM KENNEDY terribly! My staffers Brooke Hansen and Amber Wise have served literally thousands of constituents through the pandemic. If you don't know Brooke, she is a policy genius. Amber is a social worker at heart, is AMAZING at constituent services, and has learned policy from the best—her gal, Brooke. These two strong women have been like my own family. I know they are going to do great things for this body in the future.

I also will miss the fun antics of my seatmates: Brenda Carter and Cynthia Johnson, and those within talking distance—Angela Witwer, Alex Garza, Frank Liberati, Kevin Coleman, Julie Brixie, LaTanya Garrett, and Isaac Robinson. Technically, Isaac sat a few rows back, but it often felt like he was right behind me with his larger-than-life presence.

When I was a little girl in school, I was often seated next to the student who needed redirection, a quiet seatmate, or positive peer relationships. Sitting with this crew was kind of like that. Love you guys, and I will forever value your friendship. I will REALLY miss our group chats and regular COVID virtual game nights that helped to get me through the worst of the pandemic.

When I was a teacher, I put a box in the front of my classroom for my students. It was called the 'Remember When' box. Whenever something funny or memorable happened in the classroom, a student would write the memory on a slip of paper, beginning with the words, 'Remember When...'

At the end of the year, we would open the box and read the slips of paper, appreciating those little moments that made us grow closer as a community and a family. If the House had a 'Remember When' box, these are some of memories I would have added:

Remember when the VERY last name to be called on seat selection day was Sheryl Kennedy, and I was certain I was going to be skipped over?

Remember when the first week in the House when Jon Hoadley asked if I was Mrs. Kennedy, Kevin Nill's teacher and asked to take a selfie with me to share with his friend, who had been my student?

Remember when Sarah Anthony drove me around on multiple errands when I had a broken arm and couldn't drive my car because I came to Lansing directly from the hospital? Thank you Sarah for your friendship.

Remember when Jelani literally hurdled over all of the desks between the Dias and Rep. Isaacson's desk to keep him from getting kicked out when he was being gavelled down...again. Jelani knows that when I am old, in the nursing home, and have lost every memory of my own family, the memory of his face at that moment will still be there?

Remember when Brenda and I were collecting money for a betting pool regarding when we were finally going to end session on No-Fault night? Then we decided it was probably illegal, so we let Cynthia do it.

Remember when Cindy Neeley thought she was just coming into session to sign some paperwork, but ended up with a whole swearing-in ceremony and didn't go home until 2:00 am?

Remember when Leslie Love and Sheryl Kennedy did DC? It was so great getting to know you and I will value the friendship that began there.

Remember when Ronnie Peterson said the absolutely nicest things to this freshman Representative after her floor speech? Ronnie, I respect you so much. That meant everything to me.

Remember when Kristy Pagan had twins and let me look at her every day with the: 'I wish I were a grandma' look.

Remember when LaTanya Garrett offered to let me be her adopted grandmother for her children?

Side note: I REALLY want to be a grandma.

Remember Playing Pandemic House Party before caucus meetings? You know who you are.

Remember when the crazy people with the scary voices were screaming outside our doors? Some of them intent on taking us hostage—ALL of us - in a bipartisan way, and burning down the building? I wonder how much we would care about who was 'blue' or 'red' if they had been successful? I sure hope someone makes sure those rules are changed so that never happens again.

Remember meeting off-site for GREAT discussions about education in Ed Caucus and REALLY being honest with each other about education in our great state? Imagine how effective this body would be if we could always interact in that way. We would get so many great things done for the people of Michigan.

Remember a desk draped in black because of this terrible pandemic. This, sadly, I will always remember.

Which leads me to my last point.

I never intended to be a politician. I have simply desired to do God's work, and to serve others. Unlike many in this room, my husband, nor my father served before me. I did not cut my teeth as a staffer or work alongside great people in DC before I came here. I am not a person of means, who can do this work for the fun of it, or for the title. Not that there is ANYTHING wrong about any of those scenarios. But they do speak to the privilege that many of us came with into this body, and will return to when you leave.

My father didn't speak English until he was taught it at a public school. My mother didn't graduate from high school until she was 46. But together, with the support of a system that WORKED for everyone, they provided a middle class life to their five children, and one of them even attained her Ph.D. and served in the State House.

At the end of every service at my church we say in community, '...and now Lord, send us out to do the work you have given us to do.' I believe that God directed me to this seat, in this House at this time to do that work. I believe just as strongly, that my work is not done and I am excited about the next work God has in store for me. That work WILL be continuing to advocate for the benefit of public education in some way or fashion...and who knows...I may be back someday to finish my work here.

It is in God's hands, and for all of that, and for all of this – here in this House, I am thankful. I wish you all God's blessings, and hope that every one of you and all of the new members entering this body next term accomplish much for the people we serve.

Thank you all for your friendship, time and attention.”

Rep. Liberati:

“THANK YOU MR. SPEAKER

Colleagues, after listening to many former member's farewell speeches, some very reflect full, some very contentious, some very funny, and some way way too long, (Fred Durhal!), I had a hard time deciding what I wanted to say in my own farewell speech. I decided to stay away from the contentious stuff, and in the interest of time, not talk about the personal satisfaction of helping constituents or completing some of my legislative priorities. Instead, I'm going to concentrate on the good memories I have made and say many 'thankyous'.

I say 'concentrate' on the good memories because as you all know, especially my fellow third termers, we have experienced some very sorrowful times here in this chamber. I'm not sure how many State Representatives have passed away while serving in office, but losing four friends and colleagues during my six years in the house will always be a very sad memory. My Italian Caucus friend Peter Pettalia, the always friendly Julie Plawecki, Mr. joker John Kivela, and the always passionate Isaac Robinson. They never got to give a farewell speech, but I will have fond memories of them for the rest of my life. May they all rest in peace.

On to the good times and thankyous!

The first and biggest thank you absolutely goes to my wife, Nina. Nina, I love you and definitely look forward to spending the rest of my life with you. We make a hell of a team!

Of course, my three sons are next. Nick, having your dad as a roommate for your last 3 and a half years at Michigan State University probably wasn't as fun for you, but I loved it!

Angelo, you have had a very rough 6 years but I admire your awesome attitude. You have been through more than any 25 year old should have to go through. Keep up the good fight. Antonio, I don't know anyone who enjoyed going to the events we went to more than you. You just loved being in a suite HIGH up at the top of Spartan Stadium and the other venues we were able to visit. Sleeping on your air mattress at the apartment was also something you loved about being in Lansing. Thanks for being a part of the memories.

Next up is the great staff I had during my years in the house. Travis Greer, Zoe Ahlstrom, Trent Wolf, and Bill Drake. Your experience, guidance, and commitment to serving our constituents was very much appreciated. My time was much more enjoyable and effective because of you.

To my employees back home. WOW. What can I say. My biggest worry about coming to Lansing was how my business was going to do without me working there and supervising the day to day operations. I was going to leave my 15 year old successful business to a bunch of kids in their 20's. Like I said, WOW! Mike Pierfederici, and Shelby Druyor, you're the best. Your dedication and actual concern for the store was more than I ever hoped for. I couldn't ask for better managers.

Joshua Pinkowski, Megan Beck, Meghan Millner, Mike Wiese, Jordan Bradley, Bethany Nutter, and Peggy Siwka, without all of you working so hard and being so good with our customers, I would never have been able to enjoy my time in Lansing. I appreciate and thank each and every one of you.

On to the many thankyous to the people I've met here in Lansing.

Speakers Cotter, Leonard, and Chatfield, and Leaders Greimel, Singh, and Greig, thank you for the leadership you have provided.

Clerks Randall and Brown, Thanks for putting up with us, I don't know how, or for that matter, why, you do it.

Alice, as the saying goes, 'you don't know what you have till it's gone', We miss you and hope you are doing well.

Chief Dickson, I'll never forget, I asked you the first time we met, 'so you really gonna take a bullet for me if you had to?' You looked at me kind of funny and said 'HELL NO, but I'll sure as hell shoot the son of a gun who put the bullet in YOU!' To you Chief, and all the Sergeants, thank you for helping us feel safe in these crazy times.

To my smoking buddies, Fred Durhal, Erica Geiss, Tom Cochran, Beau LaFave, and Pam Faris. It's a nasty habit we all should quit, but boy did we have some good conversations.

To my 'dinner and drinks' friends, Alex Garza, John Chirkun, Nate Shannon, Brenda Carter, Kevin Coleman, Terry Sabo, Bill LaVoy, Pat Green, and Sara Cambensy, man, did we have some good times.

To my golfing buddies, Leslie Love, Matt Hall, Brandt Iden, Robert Wittenberg, Graham Filler, and Bob Kosowski, even though my game wasn't always the best, I cherish the memories of our time on the course together.

Paul Clemente, even though the member who replaced you was an upgrade, your wonderful wife Cara, it was still a pleasure serving with you.

Others that have been a pleasure to work with and have given me many fond memories of these past six years are...

Mike Callton, Rosemary Robinson, Kathy Crawford, Julie and Brian Calley, Ben Frederick, Darrin Camilleri, John Hoadley, David LaGrand, and Lana Theis.

I also would like to give my seatmates Alex Garza and Robert Wittenberg, a special thank you. Our time on the floor wasn't always productive or even enjoyable, but your company always made it much better. Thank you.

Well that's about it. I could go on and on but even though I've been gavelled down a few times over the years, I don't want to be gavelled down during my farewell speech like someone else we know. That wouldn't be a good memory at all!

Thank you Mr. Speaker and thank you all!"
